[ANCHOR] President Trump today said China has violated its tariff agreement with the United States.

	WS-VO-TRUMP-ACCUSES-CHINA-VIOLATING-TRADE-DEAL-NEW
[CAM2 VO] Trump wrote on social media that the news is perhaps no surprise to some. "So much for being Mr. NICE GUY!" Trump added. Under the agreement, U-S duties on Chinese goods dropped from 145-percent to 30-percent, while China cut its tariffs on American products from 125-percent to 10-percent. The Trump administration praised the outcome as a win for the U-S. Trump said today he struck the deal quickly to prevent what he called "grave economic danger" for China due to pressure from U-S tariffs. Trump's message did not specify how China had violated the agreement made in Geneva, Switzerland, or what action he would take against Beijing. But a U.S. official told Reuters that it appears China was moving slowly on promises to issue export licenses for rare earths minerals. The deal called for China to lift trade countermeasures that restrict its exports of the critical metals needed for U.S. semiconductor, electronics and defense production.

SOT-STEPHEN-MILLER-ON-CHINA-TRADE
[TAKE SOT 0:00]
[look, this is a pattern in practice. China for years has violated one agreement after another after another, beginning again with its entry into the World Trade Organization. There is not a trade lawyer, a trade expert. Or a foreign government in the entire world that believes that China has for a single day upheld its obligations under the World Trade Organization, not one, and the whole world has put up with it. The whole world is tolerated while at the same time, China has gone all throughout the West, pinpointed specific industries that China needs for its own national security and targeted those for destruction to make. The West's supply chains dependent on China. This was an economic, industrial, and military strategy from China, and they've been using these massive trade deficits they run with the United States to finance their own military expansion. This is a fundamental core issue of national security, and again, President Trump alone has had the courage to take this issue on]

CANADA-WILDFIRES-SPREAD-UPDATE

Raging wildfires are burning in parts of western and central Canada.
Thousands have evacuated.

WS-VO-CANADA-WILDFIRES-SPREAD-UPDATE

[CAM2 VO]

Saskatchewan Premier Scott Moe declared a state of emergency yesterday as fires spread across the northern part of the province.

The Pelican Narrows area near Manitoba has been hardest hit, with 2-thousand residents being forced to evacuate.

On Wednesday, Manitoba declared a province-wide state of emergency.

Prime Minister Mark Carney has offered assistance.

The smoke is also impacting parts of the Upper Midwest and Great Lakes region.

Air quality alerts have been issued for the entire state of Wisconsin as well as parts of Michigan's Upper Peninsula and northern Minnesota.

A Kremlin spokesman says that the Russian delegation will head to Istanbul and stand ready to take part in the talks.

Earlier this week, the Kremlin said it drafted a memorandum for a possible peace agreement. According to Moscow, the memorandum addresses what Russia calls the root causes of the conflict. Its officials now want to present the document to Ukrainian counterparts in ISTANBUL . Ukrainian officials are saying they want to read the memorandum before meeting in Turkey.

[SOT 0:15]

["In order for the next planned meeting to be substantive and meaningful, it is important to receive a document in advance so that the delegation that will attend has the authority to discuss the relevant positions."]

So far, Kyiv's officials have not officially agreed to meeting in Turkey on Monday.

Russian officials responded on Friday.

[SOT 0:12]

["Of course, nothing will be made public. It cannot be made public. Both Russian and Ukrainian draft memorandums, as we hope, will be discussed during the second round of talks."]
